

Workshop on Innovation Commercialization and Entrepreneurship: competency development for project manager in biologics and vaccines industry

January 21-22, 2019

Pathumwan Princess Hotel, Bangkok

Time	Topic	Speaker
January 21st, 2019
8.30-9.00	Registration
9.00-9.30	Opening remarks NVI director Dean of faculty of pharmaceutical sciences, Chulalongkorn University
9.30-10.45	Technology commercialization: what is needed Case study from BioApp, Korea	Dr. Eun-Ju Sohn CEO, BioApp Inc. Affiliate Faculty, POSTECH
10.45-11.00	Coffee break
11.00-12.00	Design Thinking/Innovation concepts - from research to innovation in Life Science	Dr. Onnida Thongpravati Senior Lecturer and Director of Master of Entrepreneurship and Innovation University of Tasmania
12.00-13.00	Lunch
13.00-14.30	Workshop on design thinking: Ideation (Explore) and Evaluation	Dr. Onnida Thongpravati,
14.30-14.45	Coffee break
14.45-17.00	Business model canvas (execution)	Dr. Onnida Thongpravati,
January 22nd, 2019
9.00-9.30	Registration
9.30-10.30	Innovation commercialization in the field of biotech and vaccine industry	Professor Qian Wang, Ph.D. Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry University of South Carolina
10.30-10.45	Coffee break
10.45-12.00	Feasibility study of an investment in vaccine and biologics	Dr. Suthira Taychakhoonavudh, Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Chulalongkorn University
12.00-13.00	Lunch
13.00-15.00	Financial feasibility model: case study of vaccine and biologics	Dr. Suthira Taychakhoonavudh
15.00-15.30	Coffee break
15.30-16.30	Panel discussion: Challenges in technology commercialization: a way forward for Thailand	All faculties